

Make smarter decisions in the moments that matter

The Sage Live Scoreboard connects your people to your business, for real-time results and better decisions.

Always know what's going on

As a business, you probably depend on many essential services for finance and operations management. They're your lifeblood: from banking, core accounting and CRM systems to the specialised applications you use for expenses management or timesheets.

But are you getting the functionality you need? Most systems deployed today don't play well with other technologies. They are often standalone solutions, with separate data silos and limited interaction.

The result? Your teams are losing hours of productivity, manually entering information between systems, and extracting data to get an accurate view of your Key Performance Indicators (KPIs). It's all time that should be spent on higher value tasks.

Now's the time to act. Sage Live gives you a powerful new way to connect your people to your business, giving them constant access to the information they need to make immediate, proactive decisions. You'll be able to see across systems and collaborate as never before. For the first time, your essential operating information is available more broadly within your business.

Gain a new level of agility and competitiveness from one end of your company to the other.

Finally, a smarter way to see your whole business

Sage Live makes your work life easier, increasing productivity and improving business performance. One of its most helpful features is the Sage Live Scoreboard. It's customised to your needs and your accounting and operational information is presented through familiar social functionality, including real-time dashboards.

A single, real-time source

The Sage Live Scoreboard collects information from all your business-critical systems in real time. No need to open countless apps or print hard-copy reports. View the data you need on your desktop, mobile, or tablet for better insight both in and out of the office.

Know what's happening all the time

Connect your people directly to your business performance scores in real time, personalised for what matters most to you. The Scoreboard's business newsfeed notifies you instantly of important events, alerting you to trends and challenges before they become issues.

Our three-year survey found that small and medium sized businesses could be working smarter:

- 3.8 = Average number of staff working on accounts and related activities
- 13.6% = Time spent on highly valuable financial planning
- 86.4% = Time spent on admin: data entry, data manipulation, accounting firefighting, and so on
- 1h30m = Average time needed to deliver reports on project spends

Sage can help you find more valuable ways to spend your time. Learn about Sage Live

Get straight to the point

The Scoreboard isn't just an overview of key business updates; it's a central hub for the tasks you access the most, no matter what system the information resides in. Tap or click an item and you'll immediately see the details.
